WASHINGTON, August 7.—The editor of the New York Tribune, after quoting a paragraph from the Washington correspondent of the Times, Herald, and World, relative to the communication from General Sheridan, says:—"It is evident from these despatches that there has been an attempt to destroy the character of General Sheridan by virtually representing him as an accomplice of Mayor Monroe."

only one person after him came out without being killed or badly wounded as they came down stairs by the police and the mob of rioters accompanying them. Governor Fish, who came and walks with a crutch, was met on the stairs as he came down, and escorted out to the curbstone by two policemen. On reaching the sidewalk he was surrounded by about twenty persons, who beat him on the back of the head with clubs, and he received a severe stab in the back, also a pistol shot from behind. It is probable that this shot was fired by a policeman. On reaching Canal street he was placed in a carriage, and under the charge of the Chief of Police, and taken safely to the lock-up. He owes his life to the Chief and his squad, as they prevented him from being lynched. Fish, Henderson, Shaw, and other members were treated roughly. On reaching the foot of the stairs they were beaten by the police and the mob, and after being rendered insensible were dragged off to jail. An attempt to lynch Fisk was made on Canal street, but the police in charge of him prevented it, although they nearly killed him by beating him with the butts of their pistols. But few freedmen were arrested coming out of the building, as they were nearly all shot dead at sight. The Rev. Mr. Horton, a clergyman from New York, who was in charge of a church in this city, officiated as chaplain of the Convention. I heard his prayer at the opening, in which he asked fervently that the lives of the members in glit be spared, and thanked God that peace had been declared in Europe, praying for the same blessing in this country. In a habitually ministerial one which distinctly marked him as a clergyman, he came down stairs with a white hat on his head, intending to surrender himself peacefully. He was met, knocked down, trampled upon, kicked and beaten nearly to death, while begging for mercy. The police and their rioting friends were his assailants. Dr. Dostie, intending to surrender himself, also came down. He was shot, stabbed, and treated in the same manner as the others, although he implored the ruffians to take him prisoner and spare his life. It is probable that both Horton and Dostie will die. These details suffice to show how the arrests were made. R. King, a colored man, was shot and killed, and his hand on his shoulder, shot him in the head, and he fell dead in an alley. Another freed man trying to escape from the Institute was climbing over a fence, when I saw him fall from a policeman's stick. He was killed, and at least a dozen golden rods and rioters surrounded him and fired their pistols into his head and breast, at the same time pounding him with clubs and canes. The blood flowed from wounds in his scalp, forehead, and breast, and he expired. His brutal assault upon him, he breathed his last, although he several times raised his feeble and wounded arms to beseech for mercy. I saw a white man draw a silk to an alley, and the heart of a young girl, who was standing by, burst out, and she died in great distress, staining the murderer's clothing, face, and hands. He got up, and displayed the gory marks as though they were proud emblems of a praiseworthy deed. His wife and other relatives, who were present to show how the freedmen were treated in a majority of cases. It is due to justice, however, to say that some of the policemen treated even the freedmen with moderation, and rescued them from death at the hands of the mob.

The police behaved, as a general rule, with extraordinary bravery and extraordinary cruelty. Probably fifty of them were wounded, several mortally. They were nearly all doubly armed, and used their arms with great effect and success. One of the rioters, who was before remarked, some of the did their duty in protecting their prisoners, and all the prisoners who are now alive owe their lives to acts of this kind. The mob would have lynched every white man who did not give up his arms, and would have murdered every black man, had it not been for a few gallant and chivalric policemen. From what I have already said, however, you must know that some of the force were the worst rioters present. A gentleman of my acquaintance spoke to one of them in the act of killing a freedman, asking him, "Why don't you arrest him? Don't kill him." The reply was, "Shut your mouth, you nigger-loving scoundrel, or I'll kill you." The force seems to be made up of the most brutal and respectable men. The few officers that I have conversed with since the riot do not pretend to deny what I have here stated about them, and I am willing to affirm that I have told nothing but the truth.

The police impressed the baggage-wagons of the city, and carried off to the city, one load, consisting of eight or ten bodies, had two living men at the bottom. They were wounded, and perhaps would have died; but they had been left in them to struggle for air. An eye-witness, whose name I can furnish, says that a policeman mounted the cart, and showing his revolver down between the bodies on top, killed the poor fellows, with one shot for each. The Swedish thirst for blood which seemed to possess some of the rioters was too brutal for every imagination of a savage.

Their eyes gleamed with it and rolled in their sockets; their tongues, their nostrils, and their voices grew husky from demonic yell. I have no doubt but that some of the policemen and rioting whites were wounded by members of their own party, as some of them seemed possessed with a mad desire to kill, regardless of caste, color, or sex. No females were hurt that I know of. Houses were pillaged, but the outrages were mostly confined to the immediate vicinity of the Institute. One man in a livery stable delivered a kick with a cane, and killed a negro who ran through the door looking for a place of refuge.

Ohio Johnson Convention—Important Letter from the Hon. Thomas Ewing. COLUMBUS, Ohio, August 7.—The Ohio Johnson Convention to-day selected the Hon. Thomas Ewing, Lewis D. Campbell, General James B. Steedman, and ex-Congressman William S. Groesbeck, as delegates at large to the Philadelphia Convention. The resolutions are of little account. The propriety of nominating a State ticket was left with the Executive Committee. A letter from the Hon. Thomas Ewing was read, in which he holds that the acts recently passed over the President's veto as well as the Constitutional amendment, are null and void; that not having the sanction of the Executive, they are subject to judicial investigation, and must be held invalid, because nearly one-third of the States were prevented from participating in their enactment. Had they received Executive approval, they must have been recognized by the courts without inquiring into the regular constitution of each of the powers enacting them. The session of the Convention was not altogether harmonious. It was composed almost exclusively of Federal officers and applicants for Presidential patronage.

NEW YORK, August 8.—The Java has arrived with Liverpool advices of July 23rd, via Queenstown. The Liverpool Agent of the Associated Press says the Atlantic cable was completed from shore to shore on the 27th. The line was reported working well, and with increased speed, in Ireland to Newfoundland. No further disturbances had occurred in London. The excitement has materially subsided. The Reform League has called a meeting in Hyde Park for the 30th ult., with the alleged consent of the Government, but the Ministers declared that no such consent had been given, and warned the League against holding the meeting. The League admitted there was a misapprehension, and resolved to abandon the meeting and hold it at Islington. The Government assents to the meeting being held on Primrose Hill, or any other appropriate spot, but will not allow the royal parks to be used till the question of right is determined. The Government gave notice in the House of Commons of the necessity for a renewal of the suspension of the habeas corpus in Ireland. Mr. Maguire said he should move an amendment against any prolongation as unnecessary. The O'Connor Don called attention to the treatment of emigrants on some steamers between Liverpool and New York, finding great fault therewith. After debate the subject dropped. General Michael Gleason, late of the United States army, has been released from prison in Dublin, on condition of his leaving Ireland. The truce expired on the 27th, but was prolonged to August 2, and a four weeks armistice, commencing from the latter date, was concluded. It was also announced that the peace preliminaries had been signed, and had reached Vienna for ratification by the Emperor of Austria. The minor German States are not included in the armistice, and hostilities between them and Prussia continue. The Bavarians have been defeated by the Prussians near Wurzburg. The suspension of hostilities between Austria and Italy commenced on July 25. Peace is thought to be almost sure. The Plenipotentiaries have signed an armistice of four weeks. Herr Pforden signed on behalf of Bavaria and the other Southern German States. The Habie, of Florence, states that negotiations for the conclusion of an armistice have led to a result satisfactory to the dignity and interests of Italy. The same paper says France has recognized the right of the inhabitants of Venetia to dispose of their own destiny. Austria, it is said, withdraws her demands in reference to intervention on the part of the Catholic powers in the Roman question. The Tyrol question is also reported satisfactorily settled. Peace negotiations will take place directly between Italy, Austria, and Prussia. The Danish Rigsraad has finally passed a modification of the Constitution. LONDON, July 29, via Queenstown.—The following is given as the basis of the arrangements by which the armistice has been prolonged, the territorial integrity of Austria is to be maintained, except Venetia. Austria accepts the formation of a Northern Confederacy under Prussia. Saxony and the Southern States preserve their territories, and will be free to group themselves according to their pleasure. Austria pays Prussia an indemnity of 75,000,000 francs. Schleswig is to be ceded to Prussia. It is stated that the Prussians bombarded Wurzburg on the 27th, and were repulsed with a loss of 16 guns. The town was but little damaged. The Paris says the French Iron-clad Toulon has been ordered to get ready for sea immediately. Her destination is unknown. There are rumors that if the town of Frankfurt does not immediately pay the forced contribution, the town will be closed, and no one allowed to enter or depart. Admiral Persano has demanded a court-martial. The Italian Government has determined upon a full inquiry in the cause of the late naval defeat. Arrived from Philadelphia, Louis, at Fal-mouth, and from Charleston, Orion, at Liverpool.

WASHINGTON, August 8.

Personals. Generals Steedman and Fullerton were among the visitors at the Executive Mansion yesterday. The Executive stables and carriage-house, extending to the east from the White House, are being torn down. The space will be made a flower garden. New accommodations have been made for the President's livery at the west end of the grounds. General John M. Corne, the hero of Altoona, is in town, looking after his Regular Army appointment. The Rebel General Dick Taylor, of New Orleans, arrived here to-day. He is a delegate to the Philadelphia Convention. Senator Cowan, Superintendent Darline, General Stoneman, and General Allen, of Missouri, are in town. Generals O. Brown, of Virginia, J. N. Sprague, of Arkansas, Davis Tillson, of Georgia, and E. M. Gregory, of Texas, all of the Freedmen's Bureau, have been granted a leave of absence for twenty days. General Brown goes to Connecticut.

Counterfeiting. There has been received at the Treasury Department a plate used in printing counterfeit fifty cent notes, which was captured in New York City by operatives of the secret service division. The officers secured a quantity of the counterfeit notes some weeks ago, and having worked up the case, succeeded in securing the plate and several of the parties engaged in the manufacture of the notes. Indian Affairs. The Commissioner of Indian Affairs in Nebraska has instructed Indian agents to prohibit selling or giving away of arms or ammunition to Indians. The Confederate Dead. An organization has been effected through the South having for its object the exhuming and burying in cemeteries of the Confederate dead. Plots have been purchased at Gettysburg and Franklin, Tennessee. Burning of the Jefferson Barracks. The Jefferson Barracks, near Georgetown, were last night destroyed by fire; it broke out about 11:45. Supposed to have been the work of an incendiary. These barracks were lately sold by the Government, and had been converted into dwellings. Eight families lost their homes and goods. Cotton Tax. The Commissioner of Internal Revenue has prepared an elaborate system of cotton regulations, which will be issued in a few days. FROM BALTIMORE TO-DAY. Ordinary—Personal—Democratic Convention, Etc. Madame Bonaparte is rapidly recovering from her injuries. The Regular Democratic State Convention assembled here to-day to appoint delegates to represent the Democracy in the Philadelphia Convention. Over one thousand Democrats were registered as voters in Baltimore yesterday. At this rate up to election, they will sweep the city and State for the Conservative ticket. The Campaign in Indiana—Speech of Speaker Colfax at Indianapolis. INDIANAPOLIS, August 7.—The Hon. Schuyler Colfax has addressed the largest of the extraordinary large out-door meetings of the Union men in the city. He held an immense audience in close attention for nearly three hours, interrupted only by frequent applause. Wherever he has spoken the people have delighted to welcome him, and nowhere with greater enthusiasm than at Indianapolis. His speech to-night was in vindication of Congress from the attacks of the Johnson party, and a review of the Constitutional amendment. It was a manly, characteristic effort, free from declamation and abuse, except as truth is abusive. FROM Nashville. NASHVILLE, August 7.—The colored State Convention has transacted little business of importance. The debates have been of a strong character. The Metropolitan Police Commissioners have replied, through counsel, to the injunction procured against them by the Mayor and city government, alleging that the charges against them are utterly false. The case will probably be argued in a few days. General C. H. Hyle, of the First Congressional District of East Tennessee, has been appointed by a Convention of seven counties, at Greeneville, as a delegate to the Philadelphia Convention. Senator Poland Nominated for Congress. WHITE RIVER JUNCTION, Vt., August 7.—The Second Congressional District Convention of this State, held here to-day, was the largest ever held, there being some eight hundred persons from Windham county alone, which is the south end of the district. Hon. J. W. Colburn, of Springfield, was chosen President, and Mr. A. N. Sabin, of Bellows Falls, Secretary. Judge Poland was nominated for Congress by acclamation, and was called upon and made a strong Union speech. FROM Louisville. LOUISVILLE, August 7.—On Monday the Rebels attacked a Federal soldier, who fought the crowd until he was shot three times and beaten with rocks and clubs. LEAVENWORTH, August 7.—The weather is very hot here—103 in the shade. The crops are the most bounteous ever gathered in Kansas. The Cholera at Cincinnati. CINCINNATI, August 8.—There were three deaths from cholera yesterday and forty-two new cases in this city. A young girl was put up at a raffle in Rome.
